Enda the Fire Along the Whole Line on REPUBLICAN: I am sure you like ty," and your high sense of bance will to me the "parting shot." Dr. White cod the discussion in your columns, mmenced the discussion in your column, d I have therefore the right to the last rev. You have published for him three artist and but two for me; you should, therefore, cord to me the privilege of a third response, course it is for you to say when the conversy shall close in your columns, but I feel you will not intentionally deprive represent of an advantage which it initent you was seen and vantage which it is a right to claim.

Perhaps you will indulge me in these few acluding observations. In Mr. Bakewell's orn affidavit two facts are stated: First, at the sentiments attributed to Bishop Connor were "published in the Pittsburg thosic," secondly, they were therein atbuted to Bishop O'Connor. New it seems me that Dr. Clarke was justified in quoting a same as the words of the Bishop. But it is appears, according to the affidavit, that a colitor of the Pittsburg Catholic lied. So screen the Bishop the editor is publicly anded as a liar, though a "layman and a rent convert." This is bard on the editor—but sything to save a bishop. That is one nail a sure place.

int convert." This is hard on the editor—but aything to save a bishop. That is one nail a stree place. The same thing is true as to the Skepkerd of the same thing is true as to the Skepkerd of a Valley. The editor of that paper also published what was not truth. Dr. White concedes at the quotation made by Dr. Charke was ablished in the Skepkerd of the Falley, but its little lied against the Archisthop of St. Louis, to shield the Archisthop the editor must go mn. This is another sall in the right place, d Dr. Clarke is vindicated because he quoted om a good Catholic newspaper. What a mment on the morals of Roman Catholic urnalism in this country! Catholic priests of Protestant laymen combine and swear at the editors of such do not tell the tauth, and what a novelty is this Protestant affidation such that the "Catholic Review. Dr. hite informs us that the "Catholic Review of the thint informs us that the "Catholic Review of the daying done wrong." But in this statement imisleads the public. The Wretty Catholic wise was not started till 1871, but the Quarty fichialic Review was first published in Bonaria 1844—just twenty-ix years before Dr. arke quoted from its pages. No wonder ther White wanted to fire the hast abot, for has not another in his locker. Touching ther Hecker I am free to say that I prefer a reliability of American journalism to cheer's failing memory. As to myself, I am item with the old maxim: Pelcraw est actave do accassed is especially when the accusion comes from one—I'm outward health.

in Interview with the Commissioners Ves-terday—How Their Protestations Were Met.—The Way In Which Contracts Are Extended to Pavorites.

Extended to Favorites.

The indications are that the property-holders on F street northwest do not propose to tamely submit to the imposition upon them of Cranford & Hoffman's poultice pavement without protesting against the outrage and making an effort to have it kept off that street. Like the procedure on L street, the contractors went to work ripping up the old wood pavement in spots and were about to patch with concrete in others, and proposed to get the Job well under way before the residents realized what they were about and had time to interpose objections.

Fortunately they encountered a few resolute and determined men on F street who would not be hoodwinked by their manocuvres, and took prompt action to ascertain not only what they contemplated doing but in what condition they expected to leave the street when they should regard it as finished.

in what condition they expected to leave the street when they should regard it as finished.

Messrs, John C. McKelden, W. W. Cox, J. L. Blinkhorn and Asa Whitehead, as a committee representing the property-holders on F, between Fifth and Seventh streets, paid a visit to the District Commissioners' office yesterday morning. They did not find General Ketcham in, for at that time he was on F, near Eleventh street, in company with one of the pet contractors and Engineer Hozie, taking a survey of the street and the proposed work of repair, which was another of the kind wisers a wood pavement comes up and concrete goes down.

Commissioner Phelps met the delegation and heard their grievances, and in naswer said that the intentions of the Commissioners as to repairs on the street were that no work should be done cast of Seventh street, but that the contractors had torn up the wood pavement before they were aware that they were working in that vicinity. He advanced the gratuitous information that the board was obliged to be close with the money, and if they should put F street in perfect order from Fifth to Fifteenth that the fund would be exhaustic tone of the gentlemen made the suggestive remark that the wood pavement now lying there would not last eight more mouths. In which opinion Commissioner Phelps concurred, and regretted that the concrete could not be substituted for the wood.

It was then urged that the repairs be made opinion Commissioner Phelps concurred, and regretted that the concrete could not be substituted for the wood, and the repairs be made in a continuous line, and the Commissioners made a partial promise to comply with their desire. In going over the street last night it was discovered that the contractors had been very active and if they begon without orders they were making rapid progress on their own hook. Nobody doubts, however, but that they will receive $2.69 per square yard for every yard between Fifth and Seventh streets that they lay, if they do not get more than that they lay, if they do not get more than that the fit job, and the tax-payers can rest assured that the Commissioners will not let them (the contractors) lose a dollar. They have the wood pavement all off the north side of F, between Fifth and Skyth, and the south side between Fifth and Skyth, and the such side between Fifth and Skyth, and the south side between Fifth and Skyth, and the streets.

If the Commissioner did not know that they were going to commence this, how came Gen. Ketcham on the works, only yesterday morning, in company with the District Engineer? He was seen there a little after 9 o clock.

Commissioner Phelps neglected to tell the visiting delegation that they had sufficient money to extend Mr. Murdock's contract to take in Corcoran street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, and another contractor's on First, between the $250,000 appropriation, and the pet ring contractors got all the cream of the work, as it was mapped out that they should.

THE ANALOSTAN REGATTA.

Four Interesting Baces on the Potemae.

The annual regatta of the Analostan Boat Club was held on the river in front of the boat-house last evening. The boat-house was crowded with the guests of the club. Prominent among the ornaments of the reception room was the handsome flag or trophy won by the Auslocian crow in their recent encounter.

inent among the ornaments of trophy won by room was the handsome flag or trophy won by the Auslostan crow in their recent encounter with the Undine crow of Baltimore. The interest in the racing yesterday was keen and the sport excellent, as the contestants in every case were well matched.

The course was two miles, beginning in front of the boat-house with a turn a mile away down the river. The first race was between two crows in fourtoarred shells. The crows were as follows: Blue colors—Pastal, bow: Maddox, 2; Douglass; 3; Robertson, struke, White colors—Bardett, be White colors—Bardett, be with the colors—Bardett, be paire, stroke.

crews were as follows: Blue colors—Pastal, how; Maddox, 2 Douglass, 3; Robertsen, stroke. White colors—Burdett, bow, Rooch, 2; Eckert, 3; Paire, stroke.

The crew in white colors came in two lengths ahead. Their time was ten minutes, while the time unde by the other crew was ten minutes and five seconds.

The second mee was between double-scull working boats. This was the most interesting race of the day, as there were two fine oarsmen in each, Manuder and Marshall rowed in one boat and White and McKenney in the other boat. The two boats kept almost side by side over the course until mear the finish, when White and McKenney pulled ahead with maid strokes, and won the race in 11:10. Manunder and Marshall made 11:28.

The third race was a context in single-sculls between Eckert and Burdett. Burdett won in 12:20, Eckert's time was 12:44.

The last race was between a ten-oared crew in the barge Analostan and an eight-cared crew (eight oars) was composed of Hall, coarswing Marshall, stroke, Corson, 7; Pairo 6; Wyman, 5; Simmons, 4; Wilkins II, Kimball, 2; Blair, bow. Analostan, (ten oars—Manunder, coxswain; Robertson, stroke; Pastal, 9; Madden, 8; Poor, 7, W. A. McKenney, 6; Parsons, 5; H. C. McKenney, 4; Whiting, 3; Roach, 2; Stansbury, bow.

The iten-oared crew won, rowing the two miles in 11:30. The other crew came in 11:45. The was an impromptu race between several single aculters in this safer the regular acces of the day were over. This was getten up by the carsmen and wharf-rais in the neight out of the day, and was much enjoyed by the persons present.

borhood. Though not the most scientific it was the most amusing contest of the day, and was much enjoyed by the persons present.

There were eight entries, and the tubs started from a point about 150 yards above the boat-house, and ended at the boat-house floats. The philosophy of propelling a tub is deep, but the skippers of the tubs in this race exhibited many novel and original ways for going through the water. After several mishage to different contestants, the race was won by John Easton, Thomas Kershaw coming in second. After the races there was music, dancing and refreshments at the boat-house.
